

ARTS NOTEBOOK

THE GLOBE AND MAIL

ERIC HOURI/AGENCE FRANCE-PRESSE

Putting faces on the fallen

Portraits by Canadian photographer Bertrand Carrière line the beach at Dieppe, France, as part of an exhibit devoted to remembering those killed during the raid of Aug. 19, 1942. The 913 portraits of Canadian students and soldiers were taken in the last six months.